

TERRIBLE SCENES AT A FIRE.
THREE LIVES LOST AND SEVERAL PERSONS INJURED.
FLAMES SPREAD LIKE A FLASH THROUGH A SIX-STORY FACTORY BUILDING IN GREENWICH-ST. AND A SCORE OF PEOPLE WERE AT FIRST BELIEVED TO HAVE PERISHED.

What at first was reported as an exceptionally disastrous fire broke out in the big six-story building at Nos. 465, 467 and 469 Greenwich-st. shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. With almost incredible rapidity the rumor flew abroad that from twenty to thirty unfortunate people had lost their lives in the flames. Later this was disputed, and late last night it was pretty well proved that not more than three lives had been lost. The financial loss was fixed at something over $100,000.

A. K. Warren & Co., electrical repair shop, occupied the major portion of the building, they having the first, fourth, fifth and sixth floors. Julius Cohen occupied the second floor and the California Distilling Company. Over the floor occupied by Cohen was the firm of Plant & Co., jewelers. Other firms in the building were Alexander Finkelstein, John Larnex, candies; Kellish & Co., canes; Samuel Fleischmann, glass; Nelke & Co., lithographers, and James Boyd, shoes.

The fire broke out in the lower part of the big building. The flames, however, were first seen issuing from the windows on the fourth floor. They were preceded by an explosion of what seemed to be a barrel of high wine, or something of an equally inflammable nature. Those who were in a position to know declared that it hardly seemed an instant before the entire structure was enveloped in flames, and people were seen at almost every window of the building. Numbers were seen to leap from the windows to the tracks of the elevated railroad, and from there to the ground, with their clothing in a flame.

A SCENE OF HORROR.

Not for a long time has a fire occurred in which there was so much of the tragic and the horrible. One dead body was removed from the fire-escape after it had lain there for hours in the full view of a horror-stricken multitude. Three young men said they had escaped to an adjoining roof, where they were attracted by the figure of a man on the platform of the fire-escape on the fourth floor. They ran back, and cutting a piece of telegraph wire threw it over the edge, hoping to aid him. But the flames rose over the cornice, and they were compelled to leave him to his fate. It seemed an age to the crowd waiting below before the body was taken down by the firemen and laid on the pavement at Greenwich and Desbrosses sts. There it was an object of dreadful fascination for all who could get near enough to gaze upon the rough blanket that hid all but its ominous outlines from the gaze of the curious.

Many other tales of horror were told by the people who worked in the buildings near at hand and witnessed the outbreak of the fire. One young girl, it was said, was seen to approach one of the windows in the burning structure. Before aid could reach her she had fallen back into the seething mass of flames waiting to swallow her up.

RECOVERY OF THE BODIES.

The flames had spread through the building like a flash at first and it seemed impossible that many of the hundred or more persons who had been employed in the building could have escaped. As the firemen got to work, however, and gradually scores of persons were got to play on the burning building, the excitement cooled down. It was comparatively a short time, considering the fierceness with which the fire burned at first, before the building was cooled off sufficiently to enable observations of the interior to be made by the firemen, and some estimate of the total number of the dead could be arrived at. Then the reports of wholesale loss of life slowly dwindled. Supposedly dead people began to appear. By 6 o'clock at night it was certain that the dead must be fewer than had been reported. Later a search of the building was made. It was, however, shortly before eight o'clock last night, before the first bodies were recovered. They were those of two men, who were believed to be William Gray, the foreman of A. K. Warren & Co., and J. Mueller, mechanic, in the same building. Gray was the man who had established from the ruins by the firemen and laid side by side on the pavement on Desbrosses and Greenwich sts. No others had been discovered up to a late hour. Fire Chief Lally declared that there could be no more than five victims of the fire if there should prove to be so many, and this view was endorsed by George Stanmore, the manager for Warren & Co.

AS FAR AS COULD BE LEARNED THE INJURED WERE:

Philip Haas, seventeen years old, of No. 240 East One-hundred-and-sixth-st., badly bruised.
Eugene Greenwood, seventeen years old, laborer, of No. 161 Greenwich-st., burned about the head and shoulders.
George Kierke, an electrician, sixty-two years old, of No. 161 Greenwich-st., burned about the head and shoulders.
Thomas Shirkov, an engraver, thirty-two years old, of No. 161 Greenwich-st., badly burned about the body, limbs and feet.
Michael Stavel, bookkeeper, fifty-two years old, of No. 29 New-York-ave., burned about the head and shoulders.
Thomas Teer, eighteen years old, of No. 288 Madison-st., conscious of the body, dressed at the hospital, and taken home by friends.
A. K. Warren said, four hours after the fire, to a Tribune reporter, that he had found every one of his workmen with the exception of Gray and Mueller, and he had no doubt that theirs were the two bodies which had already been taken from the building. He said that he had between forty and fifty men and boys working for him and no women. A young woman employed in one of the other establishments as a typewriter, who had been reported dead, was away on her vacation. Mr. Warren remarked that the loss to his firm would be $25,000, but he added that they were fully insured.

Among the firms who had occupied the Greenwich-st. side of the building, the officers of the Standard Lithographing Company estimated the firm's loss from water and smoke at $2,500. The building, which belongs to the Henry Walsh estate, is a wreck, but it is likely that it can be restored without being torn down.

Gray, the foreman of the machine shop of his firm, had sacrificed his own life in trying to save the lives of his comrades. When the fire broke out, Mr. Stanmore said, Gray was in the street. He saw the smoke and flames and rushed upstairs to warn the men to leave the building. Amid the blinding smoke he remained in the building until, as he thought, every one had left it. Then he started to go himself, but found that his escape by way of the stairs was shut off. He tried to leave the building over the fire escape on the fourth floor, but during the confusion of flames set his clothes on fire. In a moment he was rendered unconscious, and his death speedily followed.

Gray, Mr. Stanmore said, was about thirty-three years of age and lived with his wife and three children at Depot Lane, near East One-hundred-and-seventy-fifth-st. He fought in the English Army in Egypt and was later a member of the Australian reserves. He had worked for the A. K. Warren Company for four years.

At 12:30 this morning the firemen had at last completely searched every floor of the burned building and of the adjacent structures. They had found nothing to lead them to believe that any more than the two men whose bodies had been recovered and the man who died in the hospital, had perished, and Chief Lally said that it seemed to him impossible that any more lives had been lost.

INSURANCE CONCERN IN TROUBLE.

THE ATTORNEY-GENERAL ASKED TO WIND UP THE UNITED LIFE ASSOCIATION.

Albany, Aug. 11.—James F. Pierce, State Superintendent of Insurance, today transmitted to the Attorney-General the examiner's report in the matter of the United Life Insurance Association of New-York City, asking that he take such action that the affairs of the association would be wound up at the earliest day possible. The association has had ample opportunity to present its case to the examiner, but has been unable to do so. The examiner's report shows that on July 25 the association had actual assets of $2,022,000, with actual liabilities of $1,355,000 and contingent liabilities of $119,250.

RENNING BEHIND FOR AUGUST.

THE DEFICIT FOR THE MONTH ALREADY OVER $100,000.

Washington, Aug. 11.—With one-third of August passed, the Treasury situation does not show that improvement that was hoped for. The receipts for August, $3,500,000, and the expenditures $3,650,000, leaving the deficit so far $150,000. It is probable that this deficit will be lessened somewhat before the end of August.

THE GOLD RESERVE AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS TO-DAY STOOD AT $107,192,311, A DECREASE SINCE AUGUST 4.

The gold reserve at the close of business to-day stood at $107,192,311, a decrease since August 4, when the reserve stood at $107,282,000, built up from $89,969,000, on July 25, its lowest recent period, by the sale of $17,313,000 of gold bonds. Since July 25 the legal tender notes held by the Treasury, which were paid out for the gold sold in the market, are reduced to $10,000,000, and the gold reserve has decreased from $89,969,000 to $10,000,000. Since July 1 the Treasury has redeemed in gold $21,000,000 of legal tender notes presented for redemption.

HER DOG BURIED AT HER SIDE.

MISS HYATT, THE ACTRESS, HAS HER PET SPANIEL PLACED IN CROWN HILL CEMETERY.

Indianapolis, Aug. 11.—Princess Hyatt, a royal member of the King Charles variety of dogs, was buried today with ceremonial in the aristocratic Crown Hill Cemetery beside the body of his young mistress, who died in 1888. The upholstered box containing the body was carried to the grave by local funeral directors, followed in a carriage by Mrs. Mary E. Hyatt and her friend, Mrs. Mary Jones.

THE BODY HAD LAIN IN THE PARLOR FOR A DAY.

Long fever and old age caused death. The Princess was a friend to Mrs. Hyatt's daughter, who was known to the stage in such plays as "All the Rage," "The Girl in the Red," "The Girl in the Blue," "The Girl in the Green," "The Girl in the
